John Black told the commission that John Doran was supposed to attend this month's meeting. He told John his insurance will only pay up to $150,000.00 to repair his barn, which is a historic resource. His barn was damaged during a storm with high winds. He was hoping to receive input from the commission on how to proceed. John hopes Mr. Doran will attend a future monthly meeting.

John also told the members of The Historical Commission that they are being recognized by the County for its volunteer work.

Jim Buczala is the new liason for the Historic Commission to the Bondsville Mill Committee. He reported that the Committee wanted to have a "Zero Dollar" bid for the demolition of parts of certain structures on the mill property. The Board of Supervisors will hold a public meeting to decide the demolition permit application.
